MEET ALL IAN

The AI model that charges by salary, not tokens.

Other platforms meter every request until the finance team starts making wounded animal noises. All Ian gets cheaper the more you use it, because the forbidden billing model is A Salary.

Artificial Intelligence was the beta. All Ian is production.

YOUR AI HAS A CONTEXT WINDOW

Our AI has 20+ years and a beard.

Built from IT, IS, operations, compliance, broadcasting, charity work, legacy horrors and the grimly beautiful knowledge that most problems are people, process and procurement wearing an IT hat.

Long context. Short patience. Useful output.

ALL IAN

The Human Programming Interface

NO TIERS. NO TOKENS.

No bullshitting. No Enterprise Plus Platinum Idiot Edition.

There is one model. It improves over time. Some bugs are left in the backlog forever, because the developers have seen them, named them, and decided society can cope.

Deploy the model. Survive the meeting.

ALWAYS ON*

Offline 6-8 hours per day for biological memory consolidation.

Daily inputs are elevated into long-term storage using sleep, spite, pattern recognition and the occasional dream where a risk register is chasing a printer through a school corridor.

Minor hallucinations may occur. Still better than your minutes.

FIRED YOUR DEVS?

Repairing AI damage starts at GBP 1,250/day.

When your chatbot wrote the code, your juniors got fired, your seniors left in disgust, and production now resembles soup with endpoints, deploy All Ian Cleanup Mode.

Premium day-rate access for avoidable disasters.

CHARITY MODE

Free allowance for worthy causes. Heavy discounts for organisations the model decides are worth its time.

Not every useful organisation can afford enterprise nonsense. All Ian includes morally weighted access for charities, community projects and people trying to help without a procurement dragon eating the budget.

Social impact without the LinkedIn halo polish.
